2. In the three-hour briefing, Mr. Gershwin covered much of the material contained in NIE 11-1-83, The Soviet Space Program. He discussed the Soviet uses of space, the military orientation of Moscow's programs, potential wartime uses of Soviet space systems, and the likelihood of Soviet interference with US space systems. Dr. Gershwin also covered current limited Soviet anti-satellite (ASAT) capabilities. In terms of the future, he discussed the development of electronic warfare as a threat to US space systems.
